

Nationally Recognised Leadership Qualifications for Young People

Our vision is for every young person to realise their potential.

Awards and qualifications from Sports Leaders UK have improved vital leadership and employability skills in over 1 million young people. Research has shown that taking a leadership qualification with Sports Leaders UK can help learners to not only gain new skills but also help to improve their progress, attainment and engagement in other areas.

By empowering your learners with new skills and the responsibility to deliver sessions to their peers and others, you can create an engaged workforce of leaders and volunteers who can act as positive role models to other people within the community.

Awards & qualifications from Sports Leaders UK can be delivered in education settings and community environments – fitting easily alongside or in addition to education curriculums, the qualifications can be delivered through a variety of mediums, including Sport, Dance, Lowland Expedition and through the core-curricular subjects of Maths, English & Science.

As our qualifications are regulated and nationally recognised, schools, colleges and community organisations can use a range of financing models including their departmental and examination budgets and external funding to support funding the delivery of our qualifications as well as in some cases learner contributions.
